FOREWORD:

You may not for long recall all that happened this year...classes...dates...basketball games...gossip sessions...outings...and dances.

Into each student's life have come these fading moments...fleeting friendships...incidents that may be almost forgotten only by some word...some picture...may these memories ever remain. It is for this purpose, then...to bring back, in moments of reminiscence, our high school days...the fun we had...the joy of being young...of having friends...of being free...for this purpose, we give you F. G. H. S. of '52-'53...in this, the 1953 TWIG.

MRS. LYNDON INGRAM

To the student body of Fair Grove School, Annie Lee Ingram is a model of dependability and efficiency. She has given much of her time and effort in making our school one of the best. Her interest in each individual has been proven by numerous friendships she has made.

For these and many other reasons, we, the Annual Staff of 1952-'53, dedicate this issue of THE TWIG to her.

ALMA MATA

Just outside the city T-ville
In a grove so fair
Stands a school scene in the distance
With its colors rare.
Fair Grove High School
It is the school we love
Cheering its colors
The gold and the black
Hurrah!
Fair Grove High School
It leads us to heights above
We its sons and daughters
Till we part
To our school we will be true.

CLASS HISTORY

On September 1, 1949, the doors of old F.G.H.S. swung open to fifty-eight verdant freshmen who were clamoring to begin their high school education with Mr. Garrison and Mrs. Verna Fowler to lead us. The name freshmen suited us because we were fresh men in high school--completely unaware of and unconcerned about the four years ahead. Somewhat perplexed by the long assignments of algebra, English, and civics, we wondered if the other three years to come would ever end; however with the aid of our teachers the rough places were soon smoothed over. The State Fair Trip furnished deviation from our course of studies and sent us back refreshed for more.

One year later, a group of silly sophomores answered to roll call in Mr. Cox's homeroom. As many of the names were called, there was no answer; the number of our class went down. Although we were giddy and undetermined we could look down and see others where we had been and realized we had made progress. From this year we can recall many pleasant memories such as our Christmas party, our hayride, and also taking "Mr. Frog" apart.

Before we realized it we were in Junior-hood. We became merchants with wares of hose, sandwiches, and magazines trying to earn money for the most important event of the year--The Junior-Senior Banquet. The theme "Academy Award Night" was successfully carried out with assistance of our leader, Mrs. Clarence Fowler. We became proud owners of our class rings. Another great event was the Junior Play, "Broken Dishes."

Now we are seniors looking back over four years which seem much too short. We are searching for the good we have accomplished and realize it could have been more. With the assistance and leadership of Mrs. Ivey we are striving toward our trip to Washington and graduation. Although we are somewhat handicapped and inconvenienced by the building project, we hope to succeed.

CLASS PROPHECY

Lessie....."Hello, operator. This is 6875 Haiti, Hawaii calling Mrs. Franklin Hartman, 7955, in Mt. Airy, North Carolina."
 Operator..."Your name please."
 "Miss Lessie Gray Underwood."
 Operator..."Just a minute, please."
 "Buzz.....Buzz.....Buzz"
 "Miss Underwood, the party is waiting. Go ahead."
 Lessie....."Hello."
 Carol....."Hello."
 Lessie....."Is this you, Carol?"
 "Yes, and just where in the world are you?"
 "Right now I'm aboard the U.S.S. Diphda, which is docked here in Hawaii."
 "Really?"
 "Yes, we've stopped for a few hours because of business, but we're headed next for California."
 "Oh good! You're coming to see me when you get back to the states, aren't you?"
 "Sure, if I have time. Say, how are things with you?"
 "Just fine. Franklin and I have built us a four room brick home here in Mt. Airy. We're planning to move in a few days."
 "Well, that's good. I'll be sure to come to see you. Have you seen any of our old schoolmates lately?"
 "Yes, I saw Mrs. Jimmy Younts, the former Lorraine Nelson, uptown yesterday. She and Peggy Koontz are running a beauty parlor now, and they are really getting the business too."
 "Is that right?"
 "Yes. I had my hair set last week and I learned from them that Jo Ann Callicutt is now a doctor in Missouri somewhere. Evelyn Rothrock is her head nurse, and Betty Stillwell her dietitian."
 "Well, that's certainly surprising. But listen to this. I got a letter from Jimmy Sechrest yesterday and he has his own T.V. show in New York. He now lives on a large farm somewhere in Conn."
 "Oh, I didn't know that!"
 "I think it's great."
 "Well, Martha Lambeth and Lillie Smith are living in New York now."
 "Really?"
 "Yes, Martha is running a modeling school and Lillie is the secretary of some big lumber firm under the management of Arnold Fuller."
 "Well, I've heard it all, haven't I?"
 "No, not quite. Barbara Byerly is a lawyer in Arizona."
 "Well, I thought she would be one, because she always talked in front of large crowds without getting the least bit nervous."
 "Yes, I know."
 "Well, let me tell you. Last week when I was in Africa I ran up with none other than Winnie Underwood and Sylvia Creasy."
 "Did you really?"
 "Yes, they both own a large snake and crocodile farm in Abba, Africa."
 "Well, it's about what I expected. Last night I was watching T.V. and I saw J.V. Jones on "Rag Time Raggy". He's director of an eighty piece band."
 "Ah!"
 "Yes, and he's really good too. Paul Mayhew plays the bass drum and he had Voncile Hill as soloist."
 "Leroy Miller is playing center for the Detroit Lions in Michigan, so I read in the paper."
 "Really? Well, Lorraine told me that Clifton Koontz is pitching for the New York Yankees of which Royce Maxwell is the business manager."
 "Well, they were really good in school."
 "Isn't that the truth?"
 "I got a telephone call from the airport here in Pearl Harbor the other morning. I went out there and guess who I saw?"
 "I haven't the slightest idea?"
 "Shirley Stillwell. She's an airplane hostess with Pan American Airlines."
 "Well, fine."
 "I walked up to the plane to view it closer and saw Richard Lowder's head sticking out a window. He and his fellow scientists, Billy Pierce and Bobby Cooper, are trying to locate a new spot in the Pacific to set off the S Bomb."
 "Goodness, I didn't know that."
 "Carolyn Faircloth was on the plane, returning to the states after a successful tour in the Far East where she was given the name of the World's Most Famous Water Skier."
 "Good, tell me more."
 "I got a letter this morning from Mary Ann (Childers) Hill and Martha (Hughes) Briles from Cal.
 "Well, they finally got to California, did they?"
 "Yes, they invited me to spend a week in their motel which they have built in Beverly Hills."
 "Oh good. Don't forget to come by and see me before you return to Hawaii."
 "I'll do it. Well, I've talked too long now. Captain Jack Hensley has just come aboard and he says we've headed for California so that means there's a little work ahead."
 "Well, it's been so nice talking to you. Call again soon."
 "I will. You be good and don't forget to write me. I'll call you when I get to the states."
 Carol....."O.K. I'll be listening."
 Lessie....."Bye, Bye"
 Operator..."Your time is up. Your bill is $100.00."
 Lessie....."Charge it to the Captain of the ship, Jack Hensley."

"WE WORK AND PLAN FOR THE TWIG FOR 1953"

Our editors---planning, working, striving---to make this the best annual ever---

It wasn't always easy---sometimes we had financial troubles---but with the help of efficient business managers we finally "came out on top"---

It seemed like a long, hard job last fall -- getting pictures made -- organizing and typing all our material for the publisher --but now your annual is ready to go to press -- and it's really been fun. We hope the 1953 TWIG is exactly what you wanted -- and many thanks to you who have helped to make this issue possible.
